BLUSH HOUR

Cheeky devils unite.

5 WAYS TO COLOUR UP

1 Find your texture
 There are three different blush textures to choose from - cream, powder and liquid (tint). Cream gives a soft, dewy look and is easiest to control when applied with fingers. Powder is the fastest to put on - one sweep with a soft blush brush across cheeks and you're set. And liquid sinks into skin creating the most natural effect.

2 Do eyes as well
 Unlike the beauty rule against wearing heavy eye make-up with a strong lip colour, it's totally acceptable to create a sultry smoky eye combined with a soft pop of blush on the cheeks.

3 Freshen up
 Looking drained at the end of the day? Instead of reapplying make-up, dab cream or sweep on a powder blush in a golden bronze or peach shade for that "fresh at 9am" look.

4 Work the apples
 While eye and lip make-up requires precision, blush doesn't. For a demure style, blend a soft rose shade across the cheeks towards the temples. For a girlie look, concentrate a brighter pink on the apples of the cheeks. Or, for a naturally flushed look, blend a stain just under in a semicircle.

5 Use lipstick
 Lipstick doubles as a great cheek cream, so, for seamlessly feminine make-up, use the same tone on both cheeks and lips. □
