

Introducing the NEW Bourjois emblems

They have landed and the curious world of women is their mission...

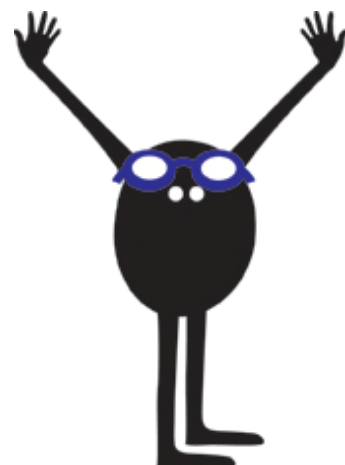

You probably haven't noticed them (and that is what they had hoped), but there has been a quiet insurgence of Ils in your beloved Bourjois world. True!

These covert, little (teeny, tiny) creature have flown in from out there, and are on a mission to explore and assist in the lives of beautiful women of Bourjois, catching them unaware.

They're a little bit cheeky and a little bit naughty, but they always have the best of beauty at heart. They're sweet little devils, these Ils!

They will seem to have come out of nowhere!

They investigate...

They lend a hand...

They help out in the cosmetics kitchen ...

But most of all, they just admire...
